Headline:
Scattered showers, with thundery downpours possible, mainly north.

Today:
Mostly dry start with a few brighter intervals, but also one or two showers around. Further showers then developing by the afternoon, turning heavy and perhaps thundery at times, with torrential downpours possible, mainly across northern areas. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Heavy showers continuing into the evening, before easing overnight. Clear spells developing, with most parts dry, but staying rather windy. Further rain moving into the northwest during the early hours. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Saturday:
Rain across northwestern areas clearing north and east through the morning. Sunny spells at first elsewhere. Cloud soon building with heavy showers developing across all areas into the afternoon. Breezy. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Breezy with sunny spells and showers Sunday and Monday, with a risk of thundery downpours. Drier Tuesday, with some sunny spells, but a few showers still possible. Feeling rather cool.
